Designed by Greg Thompson, Agenda offers a high-style alternative to the contemporary Swiss sans. Agenda is a fresh humanist sanserif inspired by Edward Johnston's magnificent London Transport face, drawn for the Underground in 1916. Italics in particular are vital styles of their own, forming interesting alternatives to customary sloped romans. Large and capable, the series offers fifty-two versions of the design; FB 1993–2000

At my grand prix, Dr. J. Blatz was equally vilified for his funky ways.
